

South Miami news

SEPT. 18 - OCT. 1, 2012

communitynewspapers.com

305-669-7355

More than great seafood is on the menu at The Fish House

BY NANCY EAGLETON

People who like a good seafood meal go to The Fish House Seafood & Raw Bar at 10000 SW 56 St. (Miller Drive).

Since 1995, owners Jose and Angela Rivero have been satisfying diners with fresh seafood seasoned and cooked to perfection. With drink specials, live entertainment and your favorite game on the many TVs, The Fish House delivers more than just a good meal.

"If your rod and reel let you down, The Fish House won't," Jose says.

The restaurant is known to have the freshest catch in town and that's because every morning, Jose selects the day's fresh seafood. Choices such as grouper, mahi-mahi, tilapia, snapper and salmon can be cooked your way and topped with your favorite sauce, including the new and popular Caribbean salsa made with mango and pineapple.

Resolve your seafood craving with two new items that have the authentic taste of the islands — conch salad and cracked conch. The Fish House is famous for its smoked fish dip and jumbo, "not skinny," chicken wings that go great with the game. Want to try gator bites? You don't have to go to the Everglades to try this delicacy.

"Unfish" favorites on the expansive menu include steaks, baby back ribs, burgers and fajitas that are sinfully delicious. Children's entrées are just $5 and there are eight great choices.

"It's really important to us to offer our customers an excellent meal made with culinary flair and the freshest ingredients," Angela said. "We strive to provide our customers with an excellent dining experience. We're not on the water, but our nautical theme and laid back atmosphere make you feel like you are."

You've always been able to catch your favorite sports on the TVs at The Fish House. If you have plans to tailgate or entertain at home, pick up a platter of wings or conch fritters or a seafood rice dish to serve at your event.

Happy Hour at The Fish House lasts for three — 4-7 p.m., Monday through Friday. End your workday with a dozen raw oysters on the half-shell or peel-and-eat shrimp for $5, two-for-one draft beer and house wine, and $2 off most appetizers. Wednesday nights are special — wine by the bottle is 50 percent off.

Live entertainment and special events at The Fish House cure the work-week blues and soothe the soul. Papa Joe hosts Pro Open Mic Blues Night with the All-Stars Band on Thursdays. Fridays feature International Sounds by Papa Joe and other special musical guests, and on Saturdays, Motel Mel appears in the BackRoom Live!

"There's always something happening at The Fish House," Angela said. "Every month we have a customer appreciation day that includes food and drink specials, giveaways and live music."

The Fish House is famous for its spectacular Mardi Gras celebration in February. The restaurant's website has an up-to-date calendar of events to help you plan your week and coupons for food and drink specials that give your wallet a break.

The Fish House Seafood and Raw Bar opens daily at noon. For more information, call 305-595-8453 or visit online at <www.thefishhouse.com> or Facebook/TheFishHouseMiami.